

Bush Lawyer

(Rubus cissoides)

CLIMBER

Maori name: Tātarāmoa

Description:

Plant in dry sunny conditions. Male and female flowers occur on separate plants. Prickly leaves. A member of the rose family bush lawyer is related to raspberries and blackberries

Fruit & Flowers:

The male and female flowers are on separate plants. Naturally enough the male flower is the finer looking

Pests/Diseases: Pest and problem free if kept clear of wet planting sites.